

THE FIRST ONE—Lots of farmers and planters claim there's no prettier sight than that "white gold." And when you add a pretty girl, holding the first open boll of cotton in the county, you've got an unbeatable combination. Holding the boll, grown on the G. W. Hairston plantation at Crawford, is Dolly Cummings, daughter of Mrs. Donna Cummings of Warpath Road. (Staff Photo by Wayne King.)